Thanks, Miguel. And if necessary, we can always defer the item. I just want to make sure we get it on an agenda in a timely manner.

Best.

November 18th looks good. I've so far been able to set meetings with two commissioners and have calls into the other 3. One has responded and we are trying to coordinate dates. The other two have not as of yet. So long as I've had the opportunity to do those initial briefings (which I'm pretty sure will be scheduled prior to the 18th) we should be good for that date.

Thank you for the update, Miguel. We have one Commission meeting in November on November 18th and one meeting in December on December 9th. Do you anticipate presenting during either of those meetings? I ask so that I may timely place the discussion item on an agenda given upcoming deadlines.

Thanks,

Hi Melissa,

We have completed the voting rights analysis and did find polarized voting patterns. Thus we can be race conscious in our approach to districting. In other words, race can be one of several redistricting factors we can consider in drafting a plan. We are in the process of drafting a preliminary report regarding that analysis. We have also done a preliminary review of the population of the districts based on the new census. There is an overall deviation of over 40%. (case law requires substantial equality in population which has been explained through the case law to be no more than 10% overall deviation). As you probably surmise, District 2 is significantly overpopulated with slightly over 32% over the ideal district population and district 3 at slightly over 10% underpopulated.

We intend to set meetings with commissioners in the next 2 weeks to discuss with them individually, then ask for a setting on a commission agenda to provide the preliminary information above and request guidance from the commission as to traditional redistricting principles to employ (compactness, contiguity, respecting man-made and natural boundaries, maintaining the core of existing districts etc) as well as the hierarchy of importance of the criteria in drafting the plan. We will also seek guidance from the commission regarding timing of any public meetings for citizen input (prior to drafting or after presenting draft plan).

In short, the new plan will require significant reconfiguration of the districts.

Good morning Melissa,

I had planned to start setting up meetings early this month. Unfortunately I tested positive for COVID (am one of those “breakthrough” cases) so I have had to quarantine for two weeks. Just got my negative test back this week. Meanwhile, Steve Cody and I are beginning to work on the analysis of past elections to determine voting polarization and confirm applicability of the VRA. I’ll be calling commissioners next week to set initial meetings.

Attached is the invoice for the payment due upon execution of the Professional Services Agreement. Could you please route it for me?

Thanks
